

THOMAS DIETSCH

President

Thomas Dietsch joined PDG Mobility in 2015 as its Chief Operating Officer. In 2017, he was named President. Thomas has more than 10 years of senior management experience in the durable medical equipment sector.

At PDG, Thomas oversees all business functions and works closely with the company's owners and other senior leaders to enhance customer experience and overall business performance. He also spearheads numerous initiatives that aim to optimize PDG's product development, manufacturing, and supply chain operations.

Prior to joining PDG, Thomas was National Director of Business Strategy at Shoppers Home Health Care, Canada's largest DME dealer. At Shoppers, he initiated and successfully implemented efficiency improvements across operations and supply chain, management accounting, and the company's government contract business unit.

Thomas believes that employee engagement and empowerment are key to creating a culture of continuous improvement and customer service excellence.

Born and raised in Austria, Thomas studied BA/Management at Vienna University of Economics and Business before moving to Canada in 2001. He recently earned a PBD in Management from Athabasca University. Thomas lives with his wife and their two children just outside of Vancouver on Canada's beautiful West Coast.
